Miss Reuter in Recital on Next Friday Evening

Sydney Lloyd Wrightson will present his talented pupil, Miss Gertrude Reuter, in a complete song recital, for which a limited number of invitations have been issued, at the residence of Samuel Ross, 228 Massachusetts avenue northwest, on Friday evening. This talented young singer had the honor of singing for Mrs. Schumann-Heink, Friday evening last, after having dined with Mrs. Schumann-Heink and Mr. and Mrs. Wrightson on that evening. Mrs. Schumann-Heink was enthusiastic in her praise, and predicted for this Washington girl a brilliant career.

The program that Miss Reuter will give on Friday evening next will be as follows:

"Thy Beaming Eyes," MacDowell; "Ich Liebe Dich," Beethoven; "Slumber Song," Gerritt Smith; "Beat Upon My Little Heart," Nevin; "Bret über Mein Haupt Dein Schwarzes Haar," Strauss; "Spring Song," Mackenzie; "Ach Lieb, Ich Musst Nun Scheiden," Strauss; "The Year at the Spring," Beach; "Elizabeth's Prayer" (Tannhäuser), Wagner; duet, "Abschied der Vogel," Hildach; Miss Reuter and Mr. Wrightson.

Conried Opera Company Dated for Baltimore

It will be interesting to a great many in this city to learn the repertoire of the Conried Opera Company for Baltimore just preceding the engagement in Washington. The company will appear at the Lyric Theater in Baltimore, March 25, 26, and 27. This theater is known as one of the best in America for the production of operas. Frequent train service makes it possible to go to Baltimore in fifty minutes and the theater is directly opposite the station. On March 25 the opera will be "La Bohème," with Carlos, Scott, Journe, Simard, Dufreche, Rossi, and Paroli. On the 26th a double bill of "Hansel and Gretel" and "Pagliacci" will be given with Mattfeld, Alten, Homer, Weel, Moran, Shearman, Caruso, Stracelli, Bars, and Simard. The final performance will be "Tosca" on March 27, with Eames, Jacoby, Dupiel, Scott, Dufreche, Rossi, Paroli, Begue, and Navarin.

Arrangements for Music at Jamestown Exposition

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Lloyd Wrightson left yesterday for Jamestown, N. Y., to attend a meeting of the board of governors. This is his first meeting with the board since his appointment as honorary director of music of the Jamestown Exposition. He laid before the board of governors his plans and proposition. He has an elaborate plan, which if adopted by the board of governors, promises that the musical department of the exposition will be one of its most attractive features. It is no small task to plan for music of all descriptions for every day during six months. Jamestown has for its concert purposes two magnificent halls, the main auditorium, which seats 3,000 people and a large auditorium which seats 6,000 people, making it possible for a chorus or orchestra of almost any size to give a concert. Mr. Wrightson sings this morning in Epworth Church.

An Evening with Wagner by the Students' Club

The Students' Club of Washington College of Music held its regular bi-monthly meeting last Thursday at the college. The evening was devoted to the study of Richard Wagner, and the program was both instructive and entertaining. It was opened with "Tannhäuser Overture," played by Miss Ethel Tozier and Miss Odile Wheelock. Charles Davidson read a paper, "Richard Wagner, Man and Musician." The "Prelude" from "Die Meistersinger" was given as a piano number by S. Frederic Smith, of the faculty; Miss Roberta Teff read a paper treating the Wagnerian theories, describing the motifs in "Parsifal" and other Wagnerian operas, which were illustrated at the piano by Miss Ethel Garrett Johnston. "Feuerzauber" from "Die Walküre" was performed by Miss Olive Tennant. The "Brynn Festival" was described by Miss Diana Norton in an extemporaneous talk. Miss Norton also told the club of the unveiling ceremony over the Wagner statue in Berlin. The program closed with "Lohengrin," from "Tristan and Isolde," Liszt arrangement, given by Mr. Garziglia.

Schumann-Heink Guest at Wrightsons' Dinner

Gave "The Crucifixion" At St. Andrew's Church

The performance of Sir John Stainer's "The Crucifixion," by the choir of St. Andrew's Church, last Sunday evening received unbounded praise from the large congregation which greeted it. The choir work was, as it has been the other times this choir has given cantatas, excellent, under the baton of J. L. Apple, tenor soloist of the choir. The solos were sustained by the tenor and bass, the latter being Fred Schaffer of this city. He made a very special impression with the depth and sympathy of his voice and the devotional style in singing. His solos were all peculiarly effective and affecting. Mr. Apple has a well cultivated tenor voice and also sings with good style and enunciation.

Musical Notes.

Miss George E. Miller, director of the Virgil Clavier Piano School, had a pleasant afternoon with her pupils yesterday in her studio, when the pupils of the younger class played. They were assisted by Miss Hazel Franklin, who sang a group of good songs in a pleasing voice and with much sympathy, accompanied by Miss Katharine May Brooks.

The second public concert of the Saengerbund will take place next Sunday evening in the National Theater. The artists will be Miss. Shotwell-Piper, soprano, of New York; Miss Elsa Fischer, violinist, of New York; John A. Finnegan, tenor, of New York, and an orchestra of forty musicians.

Friday, at the regular meeting of the Unschuld Club, the subject for the lecture was "The Oboe," which was represented by Mr. Patschka, who played two solos with artistic finish. Mrs. William K. Miller entertained the audience with several songs. The remainder of the program consisted of piano numbers by the Misses Stewart, Twendy, Aimes, and Wheeler, pupils of Franklin von Unschuld.
